TUESDAY MORNING MARCH 19 1872

The Democratic Party and the Cincinnati Convention

The most prominent Democratic journals of the East have been disposed to deal rather coyly with the Anti Grant Convention which is to meet at Cincinnati in May They don t want to be committed to its fortunes and yet they desire to give it counsel and encouragement But the frubbings the party is getting in the spring elections will almost certainly cause them to advance several marches nearer to the Cincinnati de show They have been disposed to keep at a distance heretofore because they have hoped it would become possible to run a Democratic candidate with a show of success But as they see this hope fading away they will be much more ready to form a coalition with the Cincinnati gathering and even to accept its candidate They are never so "progressive as after a sound whipping

The New York World however announces that as regards the Cincinnati Convention the Democratic party occupies the position of spectators They will look on perfectly willing to see a schism in the Republican ranks and to profit by it but they can hold out no promises of accepting and supporting the nominations In the New York Citizen the "Independent Republicans are warned that they are 'but a small body and can effect nothing by themselves They are but a faction of a party a minority whose strength although never tested cannot be large powerless to elect a candidate of their own, but useful as the balance of power to add to a great party already almost a majority For them to undertake to nominate a distinctive candidate and ask Democrats to lay aside their own preference and approve such nomination is in the highest degree a presumption and one which will scarcely be approved by those to whom it is addressed In other words, the doors of the Democratic party are wide open, and you may walk into it if you wish to do anything They are told that the Cincinnati Convention is 'premature and 'should have been held 'promptly after the Democratic Convention, but not before At last, it says, it is hard to determine which is the most available Democratic candidate 'Hancock Hendricks Seymour, Tilden, and a dozen others might be named any one of whom may be finally selected ' How it goes on to say "how can mere Republicans be expected to make a selection, or why should they think themselves entitled to do so? Why should they presume to dictate to the regular Democratic Convention, or control its action? and above all, how can they expect to force a Republican on the latter and overall of these? A Republican Vice President would be a proper concession to them and all that they can by any stretch of liberality construe "

For the reasons we have stated we think nevertheless it will not be no very difficult for the Democrats to accept the work of the Cincinnati Convention and endorse its candidate But won t that make them squirm in Oregon?

The Last Democratic Administration

An exhibit of the financial operations of Mr. Buchanan s administration shows that its expenditures in excess of its receipts were as follows:

In 1858	$27 529 904 43
In 1859	15,584 511 10
In 1860	7 005 990 56
In 1861, to March	10 054 554 59
	$60 225 100 68

The commentary on this is that the last Democratic administration ran the nation in debt to this amount and that, too in the time of profound peace, and this, it managed the Government as to hand over to the incoming administration an empty treasury and a fearful war, then just opening Since this period the nation has concluded to dispense with the services of the Democratic party, and commit the administration of its affairs to Republican hands The Democracy, under Buchanan proved itself a very poor financier Without any war expenses to meet, it spent more than sixty millions in excess of its receipts. It "robbed the national treasury of its funds, stole the Indian Trust Fund Bonds, plundered our arsenals and armories, rendered the navy useless and expensive by scattering its vessels upon far off seas, and, by its extravagant expenditures left a debt of $64 542,287 88 to pay which the people of the country have been and are now being taxed Such are some of the brilliant achievements of the Democratic party during the last four years of its power The people did wisely in driving the Democracy from power in 1860 and they will do as wisely in keeping it out of power in 1872

For answer to the charge that the school fund of the State was violated by the last Legislature for the benefit of a corporation especially mainly of leading Democratic politicians, the Herald interposes the old assertion that Congress, when it admitted the State did not consent that the 500 000 acre grant should go to the State school fund This pretense is paraded with as much ostentation as if the Herald intended to claim for itself a patent for the original discovery of it How does that paper know that Congress did not consent to this diversion of the grant as prayed for by the people of Oregon in their Constitution? Congress has since declared that it did give its consent, and who has empowered a corporation, or their newspaper to declare otherwise? Whence the authority? Where the commission? Is it not yet a received principle of justice that a party may sit in judgment on his own case

According to the Bulletin the commercial reporter of the OREGONIAN has made an attack on the Republican party The offense seems to be that he spoke of the increase of five cents per hundred on freight (wheat and flour) from here to San Francisco Just what this has to do with the Republican party is not the most apparent thing in the world and the Republican party has about as much to do with it as it had with the reduction in the size of baker s loaves last fall when flour went up And if this paragraph wouldn t seem a trifle too rambling we would remark right here that we are afraid that baker s loaves have not been increased in size since the fall of flour quite as much as the fall of flour will warrant

On the 6th inst the General Congressional Republican Committee held a meeting at Washington and appointed Senator Wilson of Massachusetts President and Representative Platt of Virginia Secretary An Executive Committee was appointed as follows Senator Chandler Chairman Senators Cameron Logan Corbett and Poole and Representatives Starkweather Ketchum Nye Coburn Hall and Halsey (N J)

St Patrick s Day at the Oro Fino

Yesterday afternoon Oro Fino Theater was crowded with the enthusiastic sons and daughters of Old Erin and their friends to hear the oration of the day Mr Burke succeeded admirably in getting the eager crowd seated in good order when after music by the band the President of the Day Mr Newell of Milwaukie opened the exercises in a brief but eloquent and touching speech

The President then introduced the Orator of the Day Col. Shiel of Salem

The Colonel was warmly received by the audience but took his seat and an express rush once He occupied the platform about 30 minutes during which brief period he succeeded in thinning out the back benches and keeping the front ones quiet besides dispelling the illusion that he was the Orator of the Day

His remarks were written and read in a low monotonous tone with here and there on every page a blunder or a pause for want of a part of speech The manuscript appears not to have been properly paged or arranged and several times he lost his place and once kept the audience waiting five minutes in the midst of an irrelevant disquisition on the future of America—the second syllable of which he persisted in pronouncing with a short a—and finally left it to go and look up the page containing the impending doom of the British Government—even in England

Shiel is a handsome fellow, of evidently some culture and reading and looks like one who ought to talk St Patrick like a torrent or tornado But he certainly did not do it yesterday We understand however from those who best know him that he is an indolent conceited dreamer of great promise, but little performance It gives us no pleasure to record his failure but as true and impartial chroniclers of the time, it is our duty to say what we have said Indeed, there is such a tendency to praise our orators on these festive occasions, that the breed is in danger of being spoiled A little honest and hearty criticism on proper occasions will be of benefit to all concerned

When a gentleman like Col Shiel of mature age, who has sat in the Hall of the House of Representatives, and who professes to be a lawyer and an advocate, accepts an invitation to address the Hibernians of the metropolis on St Patrick's Day, a decent respect for an appreciative audience and the occasion demands that he should take the trouble to prepare himself to discharge the undertaking as well as he can at least and not come upon the stage with his manuscript mixed up heads and tails higgledy piggledy like the herring in the fish woman s basket Probably the royal ears of the Prince of Wales tingled while Shiel was severely decanting on his bad moral character but not more so we warrant than did many of the faces of the audience while the latter stood before them like a big blushing school boy fumbling and tumbling his piece to find the continuation of nearly every sentence, which began on one page and ended on another Vale Shiell Hurrah for St Patrick!

THE TERRITORIES

The Corinne Reporter says Kelton will have the greatest freighting season of her history, this year

The whole fall of snow at Olympia during the past winter has been thirty five and a fourth inches

The cold weather during the winter is said to have killed all or nearly all the bees in Walla Walla valley In most instances the hives were suffered to stand out of doors

On recommendation of Gov Salomon Hlwood Evans and A S Abernethy have been appointed Commissioners on the part of Washington Territory to the Centennial Celebration at Philadelphia

A California paper notices the charter, in San Francisco of two vessels to go to Puget Sound and load lumber for Callao, at the rate of $24 and $25 per thousand feet The price is unprecedentedly high $18 being fully the average amount paid

The brig Tonner went into Gray s harbor a few days ago, rather against the captain's will He supposed himself to be sixty miles at sea, but found himself in the breakers at the mouth of the harbor where a heavy tide carried him inside the bar The only damage was losing an anchor and six fathoms of chain

Gov Bennett of Idaho has in accordance with a law of that Territory at the last session of the Legislature entered into a contract with Joseph Pinkham United States Marshal for the keeping of the Territorial prisoners The Territory is to pay seven dollars per week lawful money of the United States for board clothing and medical attendance for each prisoner and no other expense Payments to be made monthly An order has been issued in accordance with the law requiring the prison keeper at Idaho City to transport the prisoners to Boise City and deliver them over to the Marshal at the Penitentiary built by the United States

The Corinne Reporter says It is said on what we consider reliable information, that John W Young has made a contract to deliver to the Central Pacific Railroad company in this city forty thousand tons of coal during the coming season The coal is from the new mines in Cache Valley and will be shipped hither by way of the contemplated branch of the narrow gauge to Corinne We hear that the supply of fuel discovered is inexhaustible, and the quality superior to the famous mines of Evanston Wyoming This source of traffic alone would sustain the cost of building and running the Utah Northern in a short time" Cache valley is mainly in Idaho

The Tea and Coffee Tax

[From the New York Independent]

President Grant in his annual message of 1870 said As soon as the revenue can be dispensed with all duty should be removed from coffee, tea and other articles of universal use not produced by ourselves The House of Representatives by a vote of 153 yeas and 38 nays, last week decided to repeal all duties on tea and coffee, and, if the Senate shall concur with the House these articles will be placed on the free list This will give a tax reduction amounting to about 19 000 000 There were a few Democrats who voted with the majority and for so doing the New York World has been reading them a series of very sharp lectures All honor says the World to the Democrats who voted against the repeal of the tea and coffee duties and so were faithful to the interests of 40 000 000 consumers The World is shouting and sometimes almost swearing, against the high rate of our tariff duties yet when tea and coffee articles of universal use among the people, though not produced in this country are to be placed on the free list thus cheapening their price to the consumer, and taking off about $19 000 000 of revenue from these sources then this same World is in a rage and condemns every Democrat who voted for the proposition This is beautifully consistent It is the general policy of Democrats and free traders to declaim against the tariff and then vote against all practical measures for its reduction They prefer to have it remain as it is that they may make it the theme of stump speeches in the next Presidential election A tariff revision and reduction will take away this part of their political thunder It is impossible to please them since they are sure to dislike any reduction made by Republicans Tea and coffee are articles of universal consumption but because they do not happen to be productions of this country and for this reason can with the least injury be placed on the free list they roundly denounce all who voted for the measure Though professed advocates of free trade they do not like free trade in respect to tea and coffee What they want is that kind of free trade that will destroy the incidentally protective character of the tariff and leave home production to be undersold in its own market by the products of the pauper labor of Europe Free trade in respect to articles largely used but not produced in this country is not the kind they want

SHORT PARAGRAPHS

A reading (Pa) paper gives an account of a very venerable jury that assembled in the Sheriff s office in that city a few days ago The youngest was 71 years of age and the oldest 92 the average age of the twelve being 80 years The two oldest of these festive gentlemen read and wrote with the greatest ease There must be difficulty in finding any twelve to try an Reading who are the peers of these fellows in the matter of years

The Engineering and Mining Journal says that at the Upper Forest Works in Swansea Wales have been printed the thinnest paper They have produced sheets of this paper weighing 10 grains which is but 10 grains for 12 surface inches and it requires 1 800 placed side by side to make one inch in thickness This stands on record as the thinnest sheet of iron ever rolled The thinnest sheet of tissue paper to be purchased measures the 1 000th part of an inch four times as thick as this

The Wisconsin Legislature has passed a law making election day a legal holiday This is a good thing If there is any one day in the year when good citizens ought to forego their ordinary avocations and take a day of leisure part of which shall be devoted to their highest duty that day is the one on which the rulers are to be chosen Further more Americans have too few holidays Our people seldom devote a day to pleasure and recreation if it is not devoted to thanksgivings by law Hence it is desirable that legal holidays should be multiplied

A traveler was making a pedestrian tour of the Alps when suddenly, in a narrow path, he came face to face with a large brown bear He drew a revolver and was about to fire when to his amazement the bear cried out 'Don t fire It turned out that the pretended bear was a man employed by some guides who sent him out dressed in a bear skin When they had a timid traveler to escort at a preconcerted spot the bear would rush upon them but by the exertions of the guides it would be put to flight and the traveler never failed to reward their courage and devotion by a handsome present of which the bear received a liberal share

The Alleged Dishonesty at Washington

The correspondent of the Worcester Spy alluding to the charges of dishonesty in some departments at Washington says

Charges of incompetency and dishonesty are easily made But here is a significant fact which bears directly on the character of our administration officials I give below the 'clearings of the United States Treasurer s bureau for the years named

1861	$231 458 548 07	1867	$5 970 467 911 09
1862	2 224 074,642 09	1868	5 642 361 180 05
1863	4 945 434 283 56	1869	3 034 01 044 15
1864	3,2 945 024 16	1870	4 103 844 091 65
1865	9 317 5 6 012	1871	4 343 656 600 8
1866	6 403 263 990	1872	1 748 835 670 09
Aggregate			$56,101 232 282 83

Just think of this enormous sum handled by men and women whose salaries range from $3 000 to $25 000 per year The amount set down for 1872 (the fiscal year) covers only about six months During the eleven and a half years embraced in the above table the defalcations have amounted to $55,037 4o The clerks committing them were appointed under Mr Lincoln and both are now in prison

Take the internal revenue bureaus and let us see what Grant has done to secure honesty there The total loss by defalcation there up to date is $263 185 59 and three fourths of that accrues (as in the case of Bailey of the Fourth New York district) through the conduct of employees of former administrations The defalcations were generally made then and not discovered since One of 'A J s appointees Gen Steedman alone defaulted to the amount of $212 o36 93.

When the Administration came into power the accounts of but sixty Internal Revenue Collectors had been adjusted and closed Since the 4th of March 1869 those of 400 have been settled, and of 250 others superseded since then, 150 of them have got their accounts closed, and nearly 100 others are nearly in the same position Suits have been entered against the bonds of forty Collectors, twenty three of whom were appointed by Johnson seven by Lincoln and ten by Grant It does not follow that all these are really defaulters When the fat abatements etc , are all adjusted, they may be found honest and correct The amount due from the Johnson Collectors is $797,963 5o and the uncollected and unabated taxes $2,908 361 02 while for Grant s ten the amount in money is $173 99o 63 and of taxes $342 613 40

Then as to the matter of suits &c there were 5 035 brought by the Government in 1868; 6 743 in 1870 6,977 in 1871 while the amount of judgments recovered each year was as follows $741 797 46 $1 296 254 39 $1 419 066 48 the amounts collected were $127 810 94 $141,973 05 $ 94 339 97

These comparisons would hold good in all departments Of the fifteen suits brought since March 1869 for defalcations in the customs service, the total amount involved in which is but small one defendant was appointed by Buchanan four by Lincoln eight by Johnson and two by Grant

Within the last four months under the direct orders of the President, special agents have thoroughly overhauled and inspected the Paymaster's and Pension Bureaus and the money order offices throughout the country These three bureaus handle over nu ety millions annually Only three cases of defalcations have been discovered and those are pension agents The Government loses not a dollar in either The amount of defalcations in the general postoffice for three years has been $284 377 21 on an aggregate receipt and expenditure of $230,052 632 96 or a loss of about one-ninth of one per cent Most of this loss has been recovered or is in process of recovery on the bonds of officials

THE TOTAL SHOWING

From the 4th of March 1869 to the close of January 1872 the aggregate receipts have been $1 16o 528 169 the aggregate expenditures have been $924,627 026 80 or a total of $3 090,220 196 80

The actual net losses on all dishonesty by Government officials amounts for the same period to $1 262 963 or about one sixteenth of one per cent If all the defalcations be added, most of which will be recovered on judgment the loss will be about one ninth of one per cent

I doubt if there is any government emerging from a great civil or military convulsion which can beat this record No administration since the earliest ones can equal it The people will comprehend this as the facts become better known

Well Put

The Boston Journal a paper which is a reflection of the political sentiment of the people of New England, calls attention to the fact that the attacks of the disorganizers and Democrats combined have failed to make any impression It says

The general tone of the Republican press of the country is substantially harmonious on the same subject The spirit of the canvass in New Hampshire plainly indicates that there is no division of Republican sentiment there Nothing has transpired during the year or two, though many unfortunate complications of a financial character, to shake the confidence of Republicans in the policy of the Administration What could they get from any other President that they do not have from Grant They have an economical rule the national faith triumphantly redeemed peace kept abroad and the laws everywhere enforced at home could Mr Trumbull or Mr Greeley particularly if borne into the Presidency by the votes of reformers Lwed s friends and the enemies of the anti Enforcement law do any better than that?

Discerning child (who has heard some remarks made by papa)—Are you our new nurse Nurse—Yes dear Child—Well then I m one of those boys who can only be managed by kindness so you had better get some sponge cake and oranges at once

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN STATES

BOSTON March 18 Over three thousand ladies and gentlemen are now assembled in the Academy of Music at one of the Peoples star courses of lectures by Professor Richard Sauble by telegraph instrumental music placed on the stage, and greeting of friendship and good will to the people of the Golden City and express an earnest hope that the Pacific coast will be fully represented in Philadelphia at the great Exposition in commemoration of the centennial anniversary of American Independence preparations for which are now being made by the National Commission and while it is expected will surpass anything of the kind the world has ever witnessed

MADISON (Wis) San Francisco extends to the ladies and gentlemen at the Academy of Music at Philadelphia a hearty acknowledgment of the kind greeting which electricity and the press are now giving to the people of the States and Territories of the Pacific coast and our citizens pledge themselves that at the great centennial of 1876 California shall be represented as becomes her love of country and her reverence for our national institutions and traditions (Signed)

The Alaska carried to day $622 790 treasure including $500 000 in U S gold coin for Callao cargo valued at $38 000

Stocks were still a rouger and higher than evening with very heavy sales in Eastern Nevadas Lastr appears to be a general impression that the present upward movement being very gradual will last for some time

SAN FRANCISCO March 19 —Last night street car driver was shot Swift in a row over a game of cards last week will be examined on charge of murder next Friday

Martin Carmody charged with so severely assaulting his wife as to cause an accident nearly costing her life was tried to day and acquitted the evidence not sustaining the charge The case attracted much attention a few weeks since and was strongly commented upon by the press at the time

The will of Capt Abner Harker who died last week gives $25 000 to the Protestant Orphan Asylum of San Francisco As the asylum has been badly in need of funds for some time, the bequest is regarded as a veritable godsend

Nothing is yet heard of the steamer Colorado from Panama, now rather over due

There were 27,961 shares of stock sold in Board to day

Ephriam Files died suddenly at 917 Dupont street this evening

The case of Mrs Clonkey who sued the Central Street Railroad Company for damages for killing her husband was closed in the 12th District Court this evening the jury being required to bring in a sealed verdict Judge Morrison very plainly intimated that he would send some of the witnesses up for perjury

A small boy name unknown was run over by a car on Mission street near Eleventh and both feet badly crushed

F R Langdon was brought in to night charged with attempting to stab a friend named McNamara and H P Steel for shooting at a man with an old fashioned pepper box

The police Saturday evening found a young woman plainly but neatly dressed, sitting on the steps of a house on Bush street, and as she appeared to be sick or intoxicated they took her to the calaboose from whence she was sent to the hospital She still remains in a stupor, which the physicians in attendance think is the effect of a strong drug and he also thinks that while in this condition she had been outraged Her name cannot be ascertained nor any clue as to her identity

Gen Rosecrans and Gen Palmer, of Colorado with Leon F Acosta and Rich York Civil Engineers sailed for Mexico on the Alaska to make preliminary surveys for northern branches and arrange for an early commencement of work They will land at Mazatillo and follow the same route of the Seward party across the continent

THE GREAT SEA TUNNEL —The tunnel under the straits of Dover from England to France is at length to be commenced, a joint stock company for the purpose having been organized and registered in London Two millions sterling will be required for the experimental drift ways and the tunnel can be finished in five years for five millions sterling working day and night from both ends The distance is twenty-two miles and as to shafts for ventilation are spoken of, it is understood that the plan includes two parallel tunnels with trains running, only in one direction through each so as to keep up a constant current of air We entertain no doubt of the ultimate success of this plan and when it shall have been accomplished there can be little doubt that it will be the progenitor of other great works of the character under the sea, just as the submarine cables were the beginning of the great problem of shortening the time necessarily the transit between Europe and America, we find that after two were driven and the channel of Ireland and steamers running from Calais to the coast of Newfoundland and Labrador connecting, the line with it would have only to deliver the passengers might be reduced to three or four days and the whole time between London and New York traversed by sea and rail in about a week

THE THIRD LECTURE OF THE COURSE WILL be delivered by REV THOS CONDON on

Tuesday Evening, March 19th 1872,

at 8 o clock

SUBJECT— The relations of our Christian Theology to Natural Science

Exactly how MR CONDON will treat this subject we are not informed Two volumes have been open before him from one as a Christian minister he has preached the Gospel from the other he has exhibited some of the wonders of Creation He delights to read both and neither in the pulpit or in the lecture room does he array the teachings of one against the other The God of Nature is the God of the Bible He who creates by His power redeems by His grace There is no conflict between Natural Science and Christian Doctrine, but rather an intimate relation binding them together at the feet of the Master To the thoughtful mind the theme is deeply interesting It would be an unusual occurrence if Mr Condon should not be greeted with a large audience

The Office of THE DAILY AND WEEKLY OREGONIAN is removed to the S E corner of Stark and Front streets

FROST BITTEN VICTORIANS —Last year some time, Mrs J D Frost authoress of a History of the Rebellion —a widow (supposed) of fair fame and forty"—made her appearance in our enterprising little town and at once set about the object of selling her book and getting herself notoriety How well she succeeded in the latter branch of her undertaking we have no means of knowing; but she did become somewhat noted for her shrewdness and eccentricities of one sort or another. The fair Frost however, melted away from view after awhile, and went to Victoria, where she delighted the Johnny Bulls with recitations of "The Downfall of the United States" Having got into high favor in this way, she waltzed into the shop keepers to the tune of expensive outfits, and then plunged all of a sudden into grief by such a sudden taking leave—before she had afforded them no opportunity to collect the bill as afforded them no opportunity to collect the bill. It is said she went to see a sick friend at San Francisco A cotemporary says Mr Sargent, Mr Macking who passed for her husband, purchased a city residence for $3 000 and a country place for $15,000—paying a small sum on each—and left for Puget Sound "

NOVEL.—We observed, yesterday, that a number of youths and small boys had brought up the rear of that section of the procession assigned to the Father Total Abstinence Society We thought this an excellent feature not only of the procession, but of the operations of the Society We hope these little fellows have taken the pledge in some sort a part of the Society, if so, it is a start in the right direction

TO NIGHT —Rev. Mr Condon will lecture this evening before the Young Men's Association, at Philharmonic Hall, on the "Position of our Christian Theology to Modern Thought." The lecture will be illustrated by fine specimens, and Mr Condon will read from the book of the stones. We understand that the entertainment will be a rare one, for all who have ever heard Mr Condon will know that in advance

Y. M. C. A ELECTION —The Young Men's Christian Association held its annual meeting last evening and elected the following Board of officers for the ensuing year President, J D Lee; Vice President, Edward Quackenbush, Recording Secretary, W R Joselin, Corresponding Secretary, F R Arnold, Board of Directors—L M Parrish, W F Brown, George Vogt, H R. Kendall, E J Northrup

A CHURCH BELL.—There is on the wharf a large bell brought by the Almatea, for the Congregational church of this city It is from the Menelly Bell Foundry, Troy, N Y, and weighs 1,511 pounds. It bears this inscription "Presented by Asa Harker to the First Congregational Church of Portland, Oregon, A D 1871"

INFORMATION WANTED —The Kalama Post says he is in a state of anxiety about the whereabouts of Hugh Bulger, to whose address several letters have arrived from Chicago Hugh is supposed to be employed on the O & C railroad, and the attention is respectfully invited to this line and cry.

ARRESTS —Only a part of the Father Matthew row turned out yesterday, in consequence, as we are informed, of some internal dissension, the nature of which we did not inquire into

DRUNK —The examination growing out of Mr Ryan's difficulty, the other night, was taken up in the Police Court, and postponed till Monday

THE MARY STEINER.—The steamship Orizaba was announced to sail to day from San Francisco.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

The average Portlander arose yesterday morning and there were already numerous flags and streamers floating out in honor of the day—Monday, St. Patrick's Day, and quite a little show and hum of preparations for the festivities were observable. The first parade of this, however, was the arrival at the wharf of the steamer Vancouver, having on board the Hibernian Benevolent Society from other visitors from that city were met by the Marshals at the wharf with a band of music to the hall, where they dispersed to the number of the procession Between the hour of taking up the line of marches and the streets constantly increasing throngs on the sidewalks, looking from one point of attraction to another. The general appearance was that of a grand gala day, the brilliant weather inducing the ladies to get out in full force.

THE PROCESSION

The procession at half past eleven o'clock on First street, the right resting on Washington The line was composed of the Grand Marshal (Mr Caplinger) and his aids, mounted; the First Portland Brass Band, and then the societies in the following order Washington Guard, Montgomery Guard, Emmet Guard, President and Orator of the day, invited guests, Mexican Veterans, General and staff and Chief Engineer and Assistants of the Fire Department

The 1st Division was led by Marshal W P Lynch and aids on foot, and consisted of the Portland Band, followed by the Vancouver Hibernian Benevolent Society, the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society, a portion of the Father Matthew Temperance Society under the lead of its President, and the members of Willamette Tribe No. 6.

The Washington Guard, Captain Mills turned out in their usual excellent order about thirty strong, the Montgomery Guard, Captain Magraw, about twenty eight rank and file, in the U S Zouave dress, the Emmet Guard, Captain Hogan, a much stronger force having in the ranks than at any previous drill. The companies presented a very fine appearance, indeed, and added materially to the spirit and effect of the pageant The line of the civic organizations carried elegant banners and were their usual appropriate regalias The procession and turn out upon the occasion was the most considerable ever seen in Portland on St. Patrick's day

THE ROUTE OF MARCH

According to the programme, up First street to Main, down Main to Front, down Front to B Street, up Third to Market, up Market to Fourth to Mill, up Mill to Fifth, to the Academy grounds, where the pupils became vocal and instrumental exercises while the procession moved to Fifth, along Mill, down Mill to Second, down Second to B, down Columbia to First down First to Ash, down Morrison to Front, down Front to Yamhill, countermarching to Alder up First, to Oro Fino Theater Arrived

AT THE THEATER,

Time was spent in getting the immense crowd into the building and seated The auditorium was handsomely packed, and the stage contained a large number of officers of the day and invited guests, while hundreds who attempted to get in were obliged to turn back, there being neither room nor standing room The audience being called to order the Grand Marshal introduced the President of the day Mr P O C Newell, who made a few introductory remarks and then presented the Orator of the day Hon Geo K Shiel Upon the crowded condition of the Theater and the noise prevailing we were not able to catch more than an occasional remark of the speaker, and we cannot therefore attempt any report of his address This exercises at the Theater being concluded, the procession was reformed and marched to the Russ House where the following organizations and invited guests took dinner, after which the various Societies repaired to their halls and the celebration ended. In general it was successful to such a degree as reflected high credit upon the committee having the management of affairs

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER —There was a good house last evening to see the last representation of Uncle Tom's Cabin, notwithstanding the Hibernian Ball was over the way To-night by general request, the sterling drama of Griffith Gaunt will be reproduced

HIBERNIAN SOCIETY'S BALL —There was a very large attendance last evening upon the Hibernian Benevolent Society's ball at Armory Hall, and the entertainment was prolonged till a late hour

HOLLY WATER WORKS

MEETING OF CITIZENS AT THE COUNCIL CHAMBER THE SYSTEM EXPLAINED BY MR T T FLAGLER

A considerable number of the heavier tax payers of Portland assembled at the Council Chamber last evening in response to invitations from the Water Works committee, to hear Mr T T. Flagler explain the Holly Water Works system The speaker went into some details showing how the system furnished, under ordinary circumstances better water than is obtained by any other water works explaining the construction of the wells, the forcing machinery the system of pipes hydrants, hose etc He dwelt particularly and at some length upon the efficiency of the system as a protection from fire the quick use of water from the hydrants as compared with hand or steam fire engines the greater certainty of full and continued supply of water the lesser danger of machinery or appliances to give out by accident or breakage the lesser danger of disability from freezing up the supply suction being below freezing and the flow forward being constant and irresistible the greater power of the machinery and the consequent greater efficiency in throwing water etc etc. He cited numerous accounts of trials between the Holly system and the fire engines worked by both hand and steam, the concurrent and uniform testimony being in favor of the Holly system He showed, too that in all places where the system has been adopted that the risk from conflagration is so materially decreased as to affect largely the rates of insurance, stating the average deduction to be about twenty four per cent

As to the question of cost, he said that if all the debits and credits, direct and indirect, were entered against and for the system, the balance would be in its favor, although the original cost of the machinery seemed at first glance to be very large The revenues derived from water takers must be credited the cost of maintaining the works is actually much less than that of an approximately equally efficient system of steam fire engines, and this difference should be credited the saving in the premiums paid for insurance should be credited, the greater security of property and the encouragement thus given to investment in buildings, manufactories, etc., must also be taken into the account in favor of the system

After explaining pretty fully in detail all these things, Mr Flagler invited those present to ask questions upon all points concerning which there might be any doubts in the minds of his hearers, or which he had not touched In reply to queries from various persons he stated that he had known the fire pressure to be raised from the daily pressure in thirty seconds, though the ordinary time is from sixty to one hundred seconds, that, after many and repeated tests, it had been found a full supply of water can be turned upon a fire in about one fourth the time required by hand or steam engines, under average circumstances that the system actually saves the distance to be traversed by engines in reaching the locality of a fire that the Holly plan contemplates a system of pipes and three engines and pumps, that the pump originally used was the Holly rotary pump for all purposes, but that within the last year the piston or gang pump had been introduced for daily use and the rotary pumps reserved for fire use, thus obviating the objection that the pumps wear out too soon, that every part of the machinery is duplicated, and thus it is nearly impossible for the works to be disabled for more than a moment; that the location of wells must be determined upon preliminary tests etc Many interesting points were thus brought forward and fully explained that have not been placed before the public in the newspaper publications and local correspondence on the waterworks question Mr Flagler's address will enable our committees and the Council to proceed more intelligently than heretofore in the investigations they have in hand.

Are the Women of America Slaves?

BY MRS. [illegible]

It has been asserted in the Congress of the United States that the women of this great free and prosperous country are held in slavery and it is said that the women do not wish to have Female Suffrage and its train of evils thrust upon them only wish to have their chains riveted the closer.

Such are the wild declarations and assumptions of the hour. But it is easy to assert and equally so to make a denial. What are the facts of the case. In what manner of bondage then are the women of America held that this assertion is so perfectly contrary to them?

Inasmuch as the domestic and social [illegible] that which most nearly concerns us all wherein we are placed as society is at present organized, let us begin here.

A look into the homes of the country where we find the proudest principles of true institutions, shows us the wife and mother so honored and beloved that she is called the mistress of the household. Nor is the term empty title for her influence is vast over both husband and children. Where it is otherwise the exceptional cases only prove the rule and these exceptions are but ton of ton the result of a woman's own misconduct by which she wilfully deprives herself of all influence.

But where homes are cussed by drunken brutal, or vicious husbands and fathers nothing but the grace of God as applied to such sinners will change their lives and make them a blessing to their families and this same rule may be equally well applied to homes where the wife or mother is drunken or vicious. Legislation may and does protect the aggrieved but it cannot enforce happiness. Amongst our masses almost as many homes are desolated by the misconduct of the woman as of the man; yet in neither case may legislation be held responsible.

Where our laws act at all in domestic feuds the woman is protected rather than the man and it is wise and well that this more redress should be at hand on account of the physical weakness of woman. In the same spirit of protection are laws which punish men with death—laws framed expressly to guard the physical weakness of woman.

Are women such slaves under the action of these laws, as to need enfranchisement? Alas! our slavery and degradation will truly commence when, guided by the illusive name of freedom, we are led to stand forth on the platform of equal rights. We claim more than this. We claim to have preserved for us—just what we have now—protection.

Are the women of America slaves socially? We commence with what is called fashionable life. Ask our "queens of society"! Let them respond, or bid their subjects to do so for them. And amongst all civilized nations, what nation was ever so chivalrous, so courteous to its women? Our men have made us as spoiled children. Is not that our trouble now—over indulgence? It has often been a source of pain to us to witness the slavery of the men who toil to support their wives and daughters in every costly folly. During the long, weary, heated days of summer, our cities are filled with self-sacrificing men who never cease to labor, that the women of their household may indulge in pleasure to satiety. And the rural homes of the land—are unequal burdens here put upon women? Have they here no voice, no influence? Have our sisters, in the city and in the country worn the fetters of slavery in all the glorious past and those fetters been so gilded that they know it not? May we not rather suspect that man, indignant at this long servitude, has invented this cruel artifice, by which under the name of equal rights, we are to be ruthlessly stripped of every cherished privilege? Clearly, the brand of slave may neither be applied to us in dress nor in social life.

So, after all, this hue and cry is only a political ensure—some unworthy act of a desperate game to subserve a political game. And shall the wife who rules her husband, or is at least her peer, the mother who sends the sons she has moulded to the ballot box, be told that she has no voice, no representation there? She knows better, she knows that just so far as she chooses to influence, she has the opportunity to cast, not one, but several votes. Only when, under the new status the State no longer the tyrant and take sway her children, do educate them, may she have reason to complain that her voice is not heard. And unmarried women—what do they most need? Protection. How are they to be enabled to meet the requirements of life without aid or support? We answer by a better system of education and industrial advancement. A vote to them would be mere delusion.

Behold the host of wretched men now appealing for work, for bread in all our cities. They cry out to us "bread." We answer them, vote." Has this vote given to every man work, and power and place? No no—the ballot enables the few to pull the wires, enables the politician to manipulate a larger power. And shall the men who have ridden into power over the necks of voters, plant this iron heel on the necks of the woman as well? Thank God, as yet we are free!

A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENT.—Bulwer closed a speech with "It cannot be that earth is man's only dying place. It cannot be that our life is but a bubble cast upon the great ocean of eternity, to float for a moment upon its waves and then sink into nothingness. Else why is it that the glorious aspirations which leap like angels from the temple of our hearts are forever wandering about unsatisfied? why is it that the rainbow and the cloud come over us with a beauty that is not of earth and then pass away leaving us to muse upon their mysterious loveliness? Why is that the stars, which hold their festival around the throne, are set so far above the grasp of our limited faculties, forever mocking us with their unapproachable glory? Why it is that bright forms of human beauty are presented to our view, and then taken from us, leaving the thousand streams of our affection to flow back in Alpine torrents upon the heart? We are born for a higher destiny than that of earth. There is a realm where the rainbow never fades, where the stars will be spread before us like islands that slumber on the ocean, and where the beings who now pass before us like shadows will stay forever in our presence."

A CHARITABLE WORLD.—It is a temptation to a temperate man to become a sot, to hear what talent, what versatility, what genius is almost always attributed to a moderately bright man who is habitually drunk. Such a gentleman, such a mathematician, such a poet he would be, if he were only sober, and then he is sure to be the most generous, magnanimous, friendly soul, conscientously honorable, if he were not so conscientously drunk. I suppose it is now notorious that the most brilliant and promising men have been lost to the world in this way. It is sometimes almost painful to think what a surplus of talent and genius there would be in the world if the habit of intoxication should suddenly cease and what a slim chance there would be for the plodding people who have always had tolerably good habits. The fear is only mitigated by the observation that the reputation of a poison for great talent sometimes ceases with his reformation.

It is believed by some that the maidens who would make the best wives never marry, but it is true, to bless the world with their impartial sweetness and make it generally habitable. This is one of the mysteries of Providence, and New England life. It seems a pity, at first sight that all those who become poor wives have the matrimonial chance, and that they are deprived of the reputation of those who would be good wives were they not set apart for the high and perpetual office of priestess of society. There is no beauty like that which was spoiled by an accident, no accomplishments and graces are so to be envied by those that circumstances rudely hindered the development of. All of which shows what a charitable and good natured world it is notwithstanding its reputation for cynicism and detraction.—Charles Dudley Warner, in Scribner's for March.

Pittsburg has a singular divorce suit on its hands. The complainant alleges that the defendant fell so violently in love with her photograph that he "proposed" and was accepted and she came all the way from Ireland to marry him. Arriving, she discovered him and now has recourse to the law for redress.

The [illegible] of San Francisco for the week [illegible] this morning are [illegible] that prices [illegible] to be sustained if not advanced over rates ruling last week. The present prices [illegible] are from 5 to 8 cents per pound less than the highest article can be disposed of without a loss to shippers and manufacturers, and we do not talk these prices into consideration, as they are not legitimate being the offspring of an unhealthy competition between rival refineries and [illegible] such prices will soon regain their original level. No one [illegible] studying the present position but will at a glance perceive the correctness of [illegible] position. The drop rate into San Francisco for 18 1 and 18 0 in comparison are as follows:

	18 1	18 0
Sugar Eastern bbls and cubes	1	1 350
Manilla lbs	9 [illegible]	[illegible] 252
Hawaiian lbs	13 331 343	1 [illegible]
Formosa lbs	15 [illegible]	10 14 289
Batavia lbs	8 [illegible]	4 41 46.
Central American lbs	[illegible]	1 9 0 116
Chilian lbs	5 451 100	1,517 620
Tahitian lbs	70 624	1 [illegible] 526
Mexican lbs	43 [illegible] 048	36 [illegible] 84

The imports direct into this port from foreign countries we gave some time ago.

It will be seen by the above table of imports that the importations of Manila Formosa Batavian and China for 18 1 aggregate over 32,000,000 lbs. With a short supply in the East and short crop in producing countries from which the supply is principally drawn the markets of the East will come more into competition with ours in the four above specified countries than ever before which will tend to advance prices in them and cause us to draw heavier upon the Hawaiian Islands for our supply than any previous year. While it will raise the pretensions of producers in that market causing higher rates to rule. From the Eastern States our advices are to the effect that the eastern part of the Island of Cuba is virtually in the hands of the insurgents and that no Sugar from Neuvitas need be expected for near two years as the Sugar plantations in that neighborhood were very generally destroyed. This being one of the largest shipping ports of the Island its being closed to commerce is seriously felt. The planters in any parts of the Island are compelled to guard their plantations with troops and this being expensive add to the cost of production. These circumstances of course add to the price of sugar manufactured, and when the diminished yield is taken into consideration Cuban Sugar will command enhanced prices. As an indication of the advancing tendency of Cuban prices East remain firm, notwithstanding the general pressure on the market by planters wishing to realize. This pressure East every year heretofore has caused prices to give way which owing to this well known fact caused many refineries East to hold back that will have to enter the market sooner or later which will tend to establish the first advance of the year. Not only will the short crop in the United States and Cuba cause an increased supply from Eastern markets in the producing markets from where we obtain our supply, but Europe bids fair to be also an active competitor owing to the short crop of Beet Sugar in Europe and the abundance of paper money in Germany and France allowing producers to carry crop. European orders have, to a great extent been put on the Cuba market and it is not at all improbable that increased orders have been forwarded to Manila and Batavia and the number of vessels loading with railroad iron to the Pacific Coast side of South America will admit of increased shipments of Sugar from Peru by each vessel returning having part of cargo composed of Sugar. In the large cities East some of the refineries are, in view of the anticipated short supply, making heavy purchases every favorable opportunity. The refineries are carrying very heavy stocks of raw—however than ever before. That they are carrying in too much is witnessed in the fact that the demand for refined was increased to such an extent that it cannot be met and the refiners refused further orders, assigning as the cause too many orders on hand which cannot all be filled under one or two months. But some say that this increase in demand was caused by the dealers who owing to a reported contemplated reduction taking effect the 1st of March, were only previous to that time, confining their purchases to immediate wants and in consequence the 1st of March found them with a light supply of refined on hand and to replenish stock and take advantage of the low prices flooded the different refineries with orders. But I must be conceded that this year's consumption will be largely in excess of last year's owing to the rapid increase in population which we may with certainty calculate upon [illegible] and also upon the increase in consumption by older settlers.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—The market is very dull under advices of lower prices ruling in Liverpool and San Francisco. These advices caused one firm heretofore offering, $1 75 per cental for shipment to San Francisco to only offer $1 65 per cental each and declined. This in anticipation of lower prices ruling. The Ajax took out about 9,000 centals.

FLOUR—Nothing doing to-day. Owing to a scarcity of room some of our mills are forced to forward surplus as fast as manufactured to San Francisco. The steamer Ajax took out about 4,850 bbls. Market unchanged.

OATS—The fine weather is imparting more confidence in anticipation of a better demand along the line of the railroads. Without an improvement in the San Francisco market prices will hardly advance here unless a scarcity of freight is now occurring, prevents shipment in any quantity. Reports of amount in the country are still conflicting. We quote market firm for California in jobbing lots at 2½@2¾c ₱ lb, Oregon 2¼@2½c ₱ lb, sacked.

BARLEY—Receipts from Walla Walla are again in order as from this on it is safe to conclude that our chief supply will be from east of the Cascades.

ONIONS—Market firm at 3c ₱ lb in jobbing lots.

EGGS—Market rules steady at 22c ₱ dozen.

POULTRY—Receipts light with no sales noted to-day. Dealers are offering $5@5 50 ₱ dozen.

General Merchandise.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS—The fine weather has imparted more buoyancy with a heavy demand expected to rule. A leading house in this line informs us that they have stored in San Francisco over 400 tons aside from a quantity just received and amount on the brig Brewster. All dealers and farmers should remember that prices have not yet advanced, but may at any time owing to the rapid advance in raw material and that they would do well to make their purchases before the advance is established.

COFFEE—Total receipts in the United States for the year ending December 31, 1871, were 2,370,184 pkgs, weighing 322,700,479 lbs, against receipts in 1870 of 984,878 pkgs, weighing 282,548,737 lbs and the total consumption in 1871 was 310,609,166 lbs against a consumption in 1870 of 280,911,674 lbs, being an increase of 30,697,693 lbs or 12 71-100 per cent.

LIQUORS—Market quotable for Bourbon whisky $2 25@6 00; Rye do $2 50@4. Domes do $1 50@2. Brandy—French brands, $4@12. American mixed, $2@4. Common $1 50@2. Gin—Holland $3 50@5. Old Tom $2@3 50. Rum—Penn $3 50@5. Santa Cruz, $3 00@4 50. New England $2@2 50.

ALCOHOL—Quotable in bbls firm at $2 15 ₱ gal in cases, $2 20@2 25.

BAGS AND BAGGING—Quotable for standard sizes 17@17½c as per quality and quantity. Fit for Sacks 11½c. Burlap per yard, 14@15c.

BUILDING MATERIAL—Local demand dull at prices ranging, for rough lumber, $12@14; dressed $12@0 flooring $24@28 lath $3 per M; shingles $2 50@ eastern hard wood 17@20c per foot.

BROOMS—On table at $3@3 50.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Flour—Trade active on the millers reduced the price of extra to $6 25 asking. Sales @$4 lees.

Wheat—Receipts at New York for 5 days were 280,000 bushels against 415,000 bushels for the same month last year and 480,000 bushels the same month in 1870. The exports were 400,000 bushels against 1,268,000 bushels for same month last year. These figures had caused a large reduction in stocks, though the market on the 30th was dull in the absence of any encouraging advice from Europe. A small lot of good milling was sold here this morning at $2, at which figure the offerings are most free.

Barley—$1 40.

Oats—Quiet at $1 55@1 60.
